Fellowship Community Church

It is difficult to come up with plans these days, as we aren't sure what will come from one week to the next! As we gather at different times and in different ways for our Sunday services, we will try and keep you posted! You can always call Pastor Glen Whetter, or Alton Gervin with any questions. In the mean time, we thought for the month of March we would put some tools in your hands.

The first is a prayer tool! When searching our prayer lives, often the most earnest prayers we pray are regarding our children—that they would be men and women of faith, obeying the instructions of our Lord, Jesus Christ, as His ways give us life abundant! Our children need us to pray for them, no matter their age! This tool is way to intentionally pray for your children and their character daily. We encourage you to cut it out and post it where you will see it each day, reminding you to pray!

Second, we would like to direct your attention to a great video airing online on March 6, provided by the Canadian Food Grains Bank—a mission organization we as a church and as a community have been a part of on an annual basis. Please check it out to learn more about this effective ministry.

GROWING HER FUTURE: This short film, streaming live on March 6th, is a virtual visit to the thriving farm and home of Asnakech Zema in southern Ethiopia. Growing Her Future shows what an amazing impact a little support can have to empower women like her and their families. The work she and her family have done to build soil fertility and improve crop diversity, storage and marketing, are increasing their resilience in the face of climate change and other crises. ## DAILY PRAYERS FOR YOUR KIDS' CHARACTER

It is valuable to pray for noble character qualities for our children, asking God to instill these attributes in them. Post this somewhere that you will see each day. Following a schedule will help you remember which traits to pray for.

Sun. I ask God to help my children continue to mature in faith, learning how to communicate God's love and truth to others.

Mon. I ask God to help my children be wise in managing relationships, money and time.

Tues. I ask God to help my children show self-discipline and not be quick-tempered, argumentative, or divisive.

wed. I ask God to help my children be hospitable, patient, humble and respectful toward others.

thurs. I ask God to help my children learn to be gentle and kind, with a joyful disposition that reflects God's peace.

fri. I ask God to help my children be free from the love of money and materialism, pursuing activities that please God.

Sat. I ask God to help my children love justice, offer mercy to others and not be prejudiced in any way.
