cleanfarms

Recycling of <23L pesticide & fertilizer containers: please drop off at participating AG RETAIL collection sites.

The Ag jug collection depots at Medora and Waskada dumps are now closed, effective June 8, 2022. Thank you for your patronage!

Recycling matters – not just for households but in our work lives too. Local farmers have proved that by bringing their empty <23L pesticide and fertilizer jugs to the Cleanfarms Ag recycling depot to Medora and Waskada Dumps for several years now. Recycling Ag plastics helps keep local farms clean and tidy and preserves farms for future generations at the same time as it promotes sustainability throughout our community. Not only that, but once recycled, these jugs go on to live a new life - and could come back as agricultural drain tile, or fence posts or even plastic pallets. It all adds up and we're grateful to farmers for all your hard work! Thank you for recycling!

Does this change how you recycle jugs?

It's the same process: when empty, triple or pressure rinse your jug, discard booklets and labels as much as possible and return caps to the jugs.

You'll want to pick up a FREE ag collection bag from your Ag retailer to store your jugs in. Once full, tie it securely with rope, twine or a twist tie and you're ready to bring it to your Ag retail collection site at no charge.

WASKADA LIONS CLUB

The Waskada Lions would like to send out a big THANK YOU to the following people for their work on the Lions quarter;

- Curtis McMillan and his helpers for sowing the soy-bean
- Shur- Gro for fertilizing
- Don Lee for spraying
- Bryce McMillan for land rolling them.

The Lions Club has held a Srs. Supper the 1st week in December for many years. This was done to show our appreciation to them for supporting our many Lions projects. We however, find that it is becoming too much for our club to do, since we only have 20 members and 16 of us are seniors ourselves. We wondered if there was anyone interested in taking over this project. We are willing to assist with costs and organizing if there is anyone or group interested in doing so. Please contact Pres. Linda Hainsworth if interested.
